

THE CRESCENT CITY NEWS.

Crescent City

One of the most beautiful locations in Florida is in the southwestern part of Putnam county, 3 miles from Palatka and is known as the "Crescent City." The town is situated on a high ground which rises gradually from the west bank of Lake Okechobee, a beautiful sheet of water 15 miles in length and from three to five miles in width. The place is well laid out in town and grove lands, the former constituting a portion of the town and six blocks in width lying between two lakes—Lake Crescent on the east and Lake Okechobee on the west. The level of Lake Okechobee is 40 feet higher than that of Lake Crescent, thus affording perfect drainage. The water of Lake Okechobee is pure and is kept absolutely pure by the town authorities who have made it a misdemeanor to pollute it in any way. The water of Lake Okechobee is pure and is kept absolutely pure by the town authorities who have made it a misdemeanor to pollute it in any way. The trip by steamer from Palatka or Jacksonville to the town is a most delightful water ride in the whole country, and the passenger who takes this trip is held entranced from start to finish. As a point of departure, the steamer leaves the town at 8 a. m. and enters deep river, a rather narrow but tortuous stream lined on either side by a thick growth of cypress, ash and palmetto—a veritable forest. The river's curves are sharp and frequent and there is never a dull moment in sight. After nine miles of travel through this stream the steamer emerges into the broad and beautiful Lake Crescent. At 10 a. m. and a half, the passenger at Crescent City, the steamer's southernmost landing, is met by a launch and taken to the hotel. The steamer leaves Crescent City at 3 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The boat leaves Crescent City at 10 a. m. on Monday and Friday at 7 a. m. arriving at Jacksonville at 10 a. m. and at Jacksonville at 12:30 p. m. No person ever took the steamer to Crescent City without experiencing new sensations of pleasure and a short stop at the little city makes any man or woman a life-long lover of the place.

In the town proper are some of the most beautiful homes to be found in the state and the people are cultured and prosperous. There is a good school, two churches—Episcopal and Presbyterian—and two good hotels, besides pleasant private places where board can be obtained. Hotel and boarding house prices are moderate. The people have provided well-kept golf links for the entertainment of those who like this amusement. Crescent City has more orange groves than any other town in the county. Orange culture is the leading occupation of the people and the quality of the fruit has long been regarded as superior to that grown in any other section of the state. Almost every citizen of the place has a well-kept grove, many of which occupy the grove lots of the incorporation, while others extend into the country back. The merchants of Crescent City are five men, and they show stocks of goods which would do credit to many of the larger cities of the state. Living is cheaper than almost any other town in the state.

The streets are lined with shade trees and the five live oaks and broad shell oaks are laid on the principal streets. Bicycle paths lead in many directions.

Parties in Crescent City desiring to subscribe for this paper or wishing to renew subscriptions thereto, may leave their names and money with Mr. E. D. Lounds at the postoffice, who is our authorized agent.

Personal and Social.

New sweet potatoes are now in the market.

Dr. G. F. Sprague spent Monday and Tuesday in Palatka.

Master Tom Russell spent a couple days in Palatka last week.

Mrs. Fred Anderson went to Jacksonville on the Crescent last Monday morning.

Squire Burton expects to go to the Manatee river country the latter part of the week.

The Hutchins house on Summit street has been leased for a year to northern parties.

Walter Cliff and Henry Hutchinson returned from a week's outing at Seabreeze last Friday.

Miss Katherine Crawford has been engaged to teach vocal music the ensuing year in the John B. Stetson University, DeLand.

Wallace Pierpont terminated his visit here last Monday. He says that he would much prefer living in Crescent City to Savannah.

Mrs. S. L. Benham and daughters expect to leave next week for Chicago, where they will pass some time before going to their new home in Davenport, Iowa.

Miss Florence Cash left on the Crescent Monday en route to Massachusetts, in which state she will enter a young ladies seminary. Mrs. Cash and little Phillips accompanied her as far as Jacksonville.

Capt. S. M. La Bree has a new pet—a pretty little fawn, about four months old, which runs over the premises and into the house when the door is left open. The captain got the little deer from John Ragan, of Pomona.

Mary Jane Pruden, colored, was fined $2 and costs by Justice Hurlbut last week for going to the home of Gabe Gibbs, also colored, and pounding the stuffin' outen' Gibb's wife. It was not generally known here that Mary Jane was a slugger.

Miss Loula Hay of Americus, Ga., who has been visiting her relatives, Mesdames Carrier, Simpson and Shiver, the past month, left for her home last Friday morning accompanied by Miss Mamie Simpson, who goes to Americus to enter a private school for young ladies.

There was a large gathering of the young people of the place at the beautiful home of Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Miller last Friday evening, the occasion being a party given by Willie Miller in honor of his guest, Wallace Pierpont, of Savannah. The time was spent in playing games, ice cream and cake were served.

The regular monthly meeting of the V. I. A. was held in the hall on Monday of last week. The ladies resolved not to give up their school building project, but to simply wait and spring the scheme when there appeared to be better opportunities for success. In the meantime the lot on Summit street, purchased for a school, will be held for that purpose, and some money has been placed in bank to the credit of the fund.

Wm. C. Norton, proprietor of Grove Hall, at present with his family spending the summer at Hendersonville, N. C. has sent in his resignation as supervisor of this school district. Mr. Norton has served in this capacity for several years, and has taken considerable interest in the work.

Homer Wakefield has been appointed principal of the Crescent City school for the ensuing year. His assistant will be Miss Green, a daughter of John Green of Fruitland. Mr. Wakefield was principal of the school here two years 1890 and 1990, and is well acquainted with our people. Miss Green is a new teacher in the county.

Mr. J. R. Hill writes us that he and family are all well and very much pleased with the climate of Hendersonville. Mr. Hill and Miss Maude are in better health than they have been for years and he has purchased land and is building himself a house. We congratulate Mr. Hill on the fact that Hendersonville has voted bonds for the paving of streets and walks and the putting in of a system of sewerage. An era of progress and improvement has begun.—Daytona Journal.

John Madison (colored) is suing his wife Nancy for divorce. The case came up for hearing last Monday in Palatka before Hon. S. J. Hilburn, special master in chancery. Nancy was represented by Col. Walter M. Davis. This old couple have been living apart in the same house for some time, growing at each other in a crack in the wall which separates their rooms. Nancy has a voice like a fog horn, and when she turned it loose on her recalcitrant spouse, it is stated that he took to the woods. He has strong hopes that the court will untie the knot; and Nancy is willing enough provided she gets a fair share of the real estate, and the custody of the chickens.

School Meeting.

The News has been requested to announce that there would be a meeting of the patrons of the Crescent City public school in Chamberlins Hall to-morrow (Friday) evening August 23d, at 7 p. m. The object of the meeting is to recommend some one for the office of supervisor in place of Wm. C. Norton, resigned. There is also the matter of arranging to put the school premises and building in order for the opening of school, now but a few short weeks away.

It is to be hoped that all patrons of the school will make it a point to attend this meeting.

People You Know.

The Wareham (Mass) Courier correspondent from Onset, Mass., in that paper of the 15th inst., has the following item which will be of interest to local readers:

"Coe D. Smith of Long Island gave his friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reed, a pleasant surprise Monday afternoon, arriving at their cottage on Union ave. about 5 o'clock, having left Long Island Saturday with his automobile, which by the way, is a very neat little affair. He came by way of New London, Newport and New Bedford, coming all the way without a mishap, and thoroughly enjoying his short stay here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reed, leaving Wednesday morning for home, taking the inland route via Worcester and Springfield. He is enthusiastic over our charming summer resort, and will again visit his friends here in September and contemplate a longer stay."

A Big Sale.

The C. H. Preston Company has just closed a contract with John A. Crosby, president of the San Mateo Fruit Company, for furnishing 50,000 yards of Osnaburg cotton, which will be used in covering the extensive shed of the fruit company now being erected on its property at San Mateo. The shed will cover not less than 10 acres, and will be patterned somewhat after those erected by the Haw Creek Security Company on its big Haw Creek farm.

The Preston company secured the order for cloth to cover the Haw Creek company's sheds last year after competing for the business with New York cotton brokers and other merchants, and it is presumed that it has secured the San Mateo order because of its ability to make right prices.

Sugar Experiment Station.

The United States will establish a sugar experimenting station at Huntington under the direction of Geo. E. Walker. This is the statement given out by Capt. D. G. Purse, president of the Savannah Board of Trade. Four other stations are to be established in Georgia. The plan of the agricultural department in brief is to furnish to cane growers information as to just what are the qualities of cane, the kind of land best adapted to its successful growth and further details of value to those engaged in the sugar industry.

The News is hopeful that the location of a station in our midst will prove valuable, even more so than the regular invoices of government seed which annually finds its way into this section.

If Dr. Walker, as chief scientist of the new station, will confine his instructions to what he does know about sugar making, there seems to be room for some hope for this section of country yet.

Was Weary of the Burdens.

The death of B. F. Carrier, mention of which was made last week, created a profound sensation in this place, where he was known to all and universally esteemed. That his death was planned before leaving here last spring is now generally believed. To Dr. Sprague and others he had talked of committing suicide nearly a year ago, and remarks made about the time of his leaving, in the light of his tragic end, now have a meaning which they did not convey to the mind at the time.

Mr. Carrier was a scrupulously honest, hard working man, and one who kept his property in the best possible order. He was a pioneer in the place, and it is doubtful if any man here was ever more highly regarded. From a Hartford paper of the 11th, we get the following account of his death:

"The body of Burton F. Carrier, of Crescent City, Fla., was found in King Philip's cave on Talcott Mountain, not far from the Royal View, yesterday, by Louis L. Chase and George F. Colby, who were with a searching party looking for the body. Mr. Carrier had left word that he intended to kill himself. The spot where the body was found is one of the picturesque sections of the west side of the mountain in the town of Avon, and it is a legend of the mountain that King Philip, the noted Indian chief, had his headquarters in that cave during his raids upon the farms of Simsbury and other towns. The body of Mr. Carrier was found with a rifle ball through the head, and it was in such a difficult place of access that it will be a matter of considerable ingenuity to get it away from the cave to where it can be properly buried.

"The body was found at the extreme rear of the cave, and it was evident that Carrier had planned his death most carefully. He was found slung over his back in a case when last seen. When the body was found the head rested on the rifle case and the muzzle of the rifle was resting under the chin, while from the trigger a string had been attached and wound about his right foot in order that the gun might be fired. The bullet went through the chin and out at the top of the skull. Owing to the difficulty of getting the body away arrangements for that were deferred until this morning. Dr. Wooster, the medical examiner of the town is away, and Dr. Morse will be called to go up the mountain this morning and view the body. "Mr. Carrier had been in poor health for some time, but appeared to be in his usual spirits, except that deafness made it unpleasant for him to mingle with people a great deal. He was stopping for the summer with his brother, John Carrier, of Avon, and had been missing from his brother's home since 9 o'clock Monday morning. He left a note in pencil to his brother, in which he said that he had come from his home in the south with the express intention of 'putting an end to his miserable existence in case his health did not improve.' He further said that this summer proved that he was growing no better, and that with his 'cure of deafness, had come another malady which would end in insanity, and that he preferred death.' He bade his brother goodbye and told him that there would be no use looking for his body and that he would have 'any funds' made over to him. "Mr. Carrier was a small man, and was the opinion of his friends that he would make use of his familiarity with the west side of Talcott Mountain, which he had known from boyhood, to hide himself in some of the caves and there kill himself. He was known to have taken his rifle with him, and it was supposed that he had come hunting, as the note was not found until Tuesday. An empty bottle labeled 'muratic acid' was found in his room, and as he also had a bottle of whiskey, it was thought that he might have mixed the acid with the whiskey for the purpose of taking it when he had put himself off well at the touch of his friends by hiding. Evidently he had come suddenly upon his determination to make away with himself, as Fred L. Bishop of this city, who had known him for some time, received a letter from him Monday, saying that he intended to come to Hartford and stay a few days with him. "After the receipt of the note saying goodby, John Carrier began the search for traces of his brother, and not finding any, Haley Woodford, whose farm adjoins the Carrier place, organized a searching party, and for several days of last week the mountain was searched without avail. Saturday about thirty men formed a line to the precipitous cliff near the crest of the mountain, while two skirted the top of the cliff to a point in Simsbury known as 'King Philip's Cave,' which it was supposed was carefully explored, and the 'Coon Den' was explored, but without avail. The search was renewed yesterday with success as related above, an unexplored corner of the cave revealing the body.

"Mr. Carrier was 52 years old. At the beginning of the culture of oranges in Florida, Mr. Carrier went to Crescent City, in that state, and aided by northern capital, began the growing of an orange grove. He was getting on very well when the 'freeze' of 1894 destroyed the grove and practically ruined him. He had reached the point where the sale of the crop which was frozen would have cleared his indebtedness and left him a handsome profit, and the disaster of the freeze worked upon his mind and discouraged him greatly. This and his deafness, which he regarded as a curse which had afflicted his family, his sister being deaf, broke down his spirits altogether."

A Worm Killer.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twigs which I have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine. White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at Ackerman & Stewart's, Palatka; and Lounds' drug store Crescent City."

Love Sonnet of an Office Boy.

Oh, if you only knewed how much I like
To stand here, when the "old man"
Ain't around,
And watch your sweet fingers while
You point
Away at them there keys! Each
Time you strike
It almost seems to me as tho' you'd found
Some way, while writin' letters,
how to play
Sweet music on that thing, because the color
Is something I could listen to all day.
You're twenty-five or six and I'm fourteen—
And you don't hardly ever notice
me—
But when you do call me Willie!
Oh!
I wish I'd bundles of the old long green
And could be twenty-eight or nine or so,
And something happened to your other beau.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED

AT PANAMA, COLOMBIA, BY CHAMBERLIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

Dr. Chas. H. Uter a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort, prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale at Ackerman & Stewart, druggists.

A Modern Solomon.

The mayor of Stenboville, O., has had a good deal of trouble with quarrelsome women. They abuse each other over backyard fences, and are arrested, and take up the time of the court profitably. The mayor has now devised a scheme by which to settle what he calls "clothesline quarrels," and thus far it has worked beautifully. He has set apart a room in which both parties are locked up to fight it out by themselves. After an hour or two of abuse, their works seem to run down; they have nothing more to say, and usually go home in a state of harmony.

Cut this out and take it to Ackerman & Stewart's drug store and get a box of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. The best physic. They also correct disorders of the stomach. Price 25 cents. 6

TALKS OF FAST AUTOS.

Thomas Edison Given the Ride of His Life—Can Build Machine That Will Beat the Wind.

As the result of a wild cross-country ride in a big gasoline automobile with E. E. Britton, of the Automobile Club of America, Thomas A. Edison is working on a new device for his storage battery. "I learned several important points in my ride," said Mr. Edison. "I have drawn plans to work them out, but I cannot make them public."

Mr. Edison's ride ended at midnight, when the Britton machine ran into an iron bar on the road near Paterson and punctured a tire. A farmer's rig was hired to take Mr. Edison and Mr. Britton home.

"I never rode so fast in my life," said Mr. Edison. "We speeded up and down the avenue so rapidly that all I saw was a streak of trees."

Mrs. Edison and her daughter were next taken aboard the machine and given the ride of their lives.

"I can make an electric automobile that will go so fast a man cannot sit in it," Mr. Edison said. The speed of storage machines is unlimited. I am not sport and do not care to ride fast so I don't think I'll ever make such a machine. It is a simple matter and all depends on how fast a man can ride and live."

MARRIED ELOPING DAUGHTER.

Near-Sighted Minister Performs Ceremony for His Own Child, Not Recognizing Her.

Rev. Thomas Brown, a prominent clergyman of Tioga county, Pa., married his eloping daughter to J. W. Stone, of Allegheny, by mistake. Dr. Brown, who is very near-sighted, was spending two weeks at Bowersville, N. Y. near the state line. His daughter, Miss Susie, a student at Bryn Mawr, he supposed was on a visit to friends in Philadelphia. She had, however, arranged to meet young Stone and elope. After a two weeks' stay in that city Stone brought her to his aunt's residence, near Bowersville, and the couple drove to the parsonage.

The regular minister was there, but Rev. Mr. Brown performed the ceremony, not recognizing his daughter in her traveling dress. She saw the dilemma she was in, but gave her mother's name, which was her middle name, and at the conclusion of the ceremony and the signing of the certificate made known her identity to her father. He was extremely indignant at first but a reconciliation has been effected.

DANGEROUS DISEASE.

Tuberculosis Declared to be Acute and Infectious Malady.

American Congress on Tuberculosis Takes Important Action—Makes Strong Recommendations of Preventive Measures.

The American congress on tuberculosis, which has just adjourned its session at New York city, adopted strong resolutions that "tuberculosis is an acute, infectious disease" and urging precautionary measures. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, Tuberculosis is an infectious disease, ordinarily communicated from person to person by means of the dried sputum of a consumptive patient; and

"Resolved, That the spread of tuberculosis could be largely controlled by proper care of such sputum and the enforcement of comparatively simple measures; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the American congress on tuberculosis, that the health authorities be urged to disseminate to the widest extent possible, through the public press and otherwise, correct information as to the manner in which this disease is produced and the means to be employed for its prevention.

"Resolved, That we believe it to be the duty of the national, state and municipal governments to enact rational methods for the prevention of tuberculosis, and we recommend the establishment of institutions for the care of indigent consumptives.

"Resolved, That there should be state and municipal supervision of all public conveyances for the transportation of passengers, and in view of the fact that spitting on the floors of public conveyances favors the spread of tuberculosis and is injurious to the public health, it is recommended that transportation companies be induced to pass and to enforce rules against this act.

"Resolved, That appropriations should be requested from state and municipal governments for the publication and distribution of literature as a means of education in the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis.

LOOK OUT FOR OPHTHALMIA.

New York Physicians Place the Disease on List of the Contagious Maladies.

Because of the discovery that ophthalmia, a disease of the eyes, is prevalent among a large proportion of the pupils in the public schools of New York city, the board of health has placed it on the list of contagious diseases, and physicians hereafter will be compelled to make reports of each case found in their private practice.

Through investigations made in two of the public schools, where the eyes of about 2,000 children were examined, it was found that at least 15 per cent. had the disease. In one of the schools 20 per cent. of the children were afflicted, and in the other 15 per cent.

According to the physician who made the investigation, the disease may be contracted through using a handkerchief or towel that has been previously used by an afflicted person.

TOO MANY WEDDING GIFTS.

Express Agent at Greenwich, Conn., Resigns Because He Cannot Handle Them All.

So many car loads of wedding presents have come to Greenwich, Conn., by express to be delivered to the May and June brides that the local agent, Charles D. Nowrey, and his assistants, Harry Burnett and George Jernan, have thrown up their positions. There have been numerous weddings among society folks this season among which were the Lauder-Roland and Rowland-Hubbell nuptials, and the agent found that delivering the hundreds of presents along with the usual run of business was too much for him. He found it impossible to deliver the gifts and other merchandise on time, although he and his force of four men worked 15 hours a day, and more weddings were coming, so finally in disgust he threw up the position.
